Balkan Conflicts (1991 - 1995) (1998 - 2001)

Former Yugoslavia

The disintegration of former Yugoslavia post cold war saw conflicts which became mediated and produced peace agreements in Slovenia (where the brief independence conflict was mediated by the EC Troika in 1991), Croatia (between Croatian and Serb populations 1991-1995), in Bosnia (between Croatian, Serb and Bosniak populations 1992-1995), in Macedonia (where mediation played a key pre-emptive role in preventing large scale conflict in 2001), in Kosovo (between Kosovar Albanians and Serbian population and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (FRY), but also between FRY and NATO, 1998-1999), and a conflict in the Presevo Valley (between Albanians in South Serbia and FRY, 2000-2001). The continued fall-out of the disintegration of former Yugoslavia also saw mediated agreement and ultimate dissolution of the Union between Serbia and Montenegro.

Bosnia-Herzegovina

In 1991, after nationalist parties won the first multi-party elections in the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, a violent process of disintegration commenced. With its mixed population, Bosnia-Herzegovina became the centre of the following civil war that began in 1992 between the newly formed army of the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina (mostly Muslim Bosniacs), and the parastatal forces of self-declared Bosnian Croat (Herzeg-Bosnia) and Bosnian Serb (Republika Srpska) entities within Bosnia-Herzegovina, supported by Croatia and Serbia, with various, often short-lived, coalitions. The General Framework Agreement (Dayton Peace Agreement), signed in 1995, split the country into two ethno-federal entities, the Bosniak-Croat Federation and the Republika Srpska, and included continued peacekeeping and institutional administration by international actors.

Kosovo

The conflict between Serbs and Kosovar Albanians has a long history and always involved territorial disputes as well as ethno-political, cultural and linguistic factors. The most recent phase of the conflict began in November 1997 when the Albanian Kosovo Liberation Army (KLA or UCK) began their campaign for the independence of Kosovo from the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (FRY – then Serbia and Montenegro). The subsequent war lasted until the NATO intervention, which undertook bombing campaigns of Belgrade and other places in Serbia during spring 1999. The main agreements solving the conflict were internationally driven and, finally, a UNSC resolution imposed a post-conflict arrangement in the wake of what was essentially a NATO military victory. In February 2008, Kosovo's parliament declared independence, but independence is still internationally disputed.

Summary: the agreement in its entirety provides for implementing an earlier agreement that Kosovo will be allocated a 3-digit dial code, and other modalities for reforming telecommunications infrastructure. Key provisions are coded here.

Page 1, 6. An implementation group will be formed, with EU facilitation as necessary, in order to draft a full Action plan for the implementation of the Agreement. Once the above arrangements have entered into force, the implementation group may discuss, at the request of either side, any other issues relating to these arrangements. The full implementation process will commence upon receipt of written acceptance of Action plan. Comment: Any request for a possible modification to NewCo mobile infrastructure may be raised under these discussions.

Page 1, 1.0. In the context of the EU-facilitated dialogue, both sides agree that Kosovo shall be allocated a 3-digit dial code from the ITU in line with the standards and principles and timetable of the ITU, The two sides agreed that a mutually accepted modality will be found regarding this process within three months, with EU facilitation as necessary.

Page 1, 1.1. Approach to the ITU with EU facilitation as necessary. Comment: It is agreed that Austria sends the letter to the ITU to initiate this procedure. The text of this letter is in Annex 2 to this Action Plan

Page 1, 1.2. Allocation of 3-digit dial code. Both parties agree Kosovo will have the sole responsibility for implementing this code, after Kosovo is allocated this 3-digit code by the ITU. ITU will communicate with RAEPC as the sole administrator of this code if necessary. Comment: The ITU publishes its bulletins on the 1st and the 15th of the month. The text of the ITU bulletin is in Annex 1 to this Action Plan. The denomination of Kosovo in the ITU's technical annexes is in Annex 3 to this Action Plan.

Page 2, 1.5. The aim is that the migration period relating to the dial code should end by January 2015. After this date, this dial code from the ITU will be used by all operators in Kosovo. Operators from both parties will reduce costs to local charges for citizens. Comment: Will also need to involve NewCo. (see point 3 and 4 below: only operators authorised by RAEPC will be able to operate in Kosovo).

Page 2, 1.7. Operators from both parties will reduce costs to local charges for citizens, in accordance in EU practices. Both sides will ensure that there will be no institutional, legal or procedural obstacles to do so.

Page 2, 2.0. Regulators in both sides will agree technical agreements to harmonise the use of spectrum for GSM, and television signal, including digital terrestrial broadcasting, with the aim of ensuring mutually uninterrupted provision of services based on the principles of ITU and avoiding harmful interference between services. Each Party commits not to cover the border/boundary of the other Party intentionally.

Page 3, 3.0. On fixed telephony, a full license for fixed telecommunications services will be issued to a NewCo, subsidiary of a Serbian company registered in accordance with the Kosovan regulatory framework. Comment: The current fixed active telecommunications infrastructure should be regularly maintained until the license is granted in 3.4.

Page 3, 4.0. On mobile telephony, the Kosovo authorities will permit the new company a temporary authorisation, under Kosovo regulatory framework, for current operations, limited to the current infrastructure on the ground. This temporary authorisation will not expire before January 2015. The temporary authorisation will expire once the Kosovo
