Congo Civil Wars (1996 -)

The overthrow of the long-term dictator Mobutu Sese Seko by a rebel Tutsi army backed by Uganda and Rwanda in 1997 acted as a catalyst for a war with regional dimensions, mainly fought in the eastern Kivu provinces. The conflict escalated in 1998, when President Laurent Kabila, then backed by Zimbabwean and Angolan troops, ordered Rwanda and Uganda to leave. After Kabila's assassination in 2001, his son Joseph took over the presidency and won in the 2006 democratic elections.

In the eastern provinces, Tutsi-led militias, mainly organised in the National Congress for the Defense of the People (CNDP), fought the remnants of the Rwandan Hutu force FDLR, with further involvement of Rwandan and Ugandan troops. Other regionally operating militia groups, like the Lord's Resistance Army from Northern Uganda, the so-called Mai Mai groups or short-lived guerrilla outfits like the March 23 Movement (M23) further contributed, and still contribute, to the complexity of the situation in eastern DRC.

Page 3, Annex , Preamble

... RECALLING the mandate, contained in the Victoria Falls II Joint Communiqué, give to the Minister of Defence and other officials working in close cooperation with OAU and the UN to establish the modalities for effecting an immediate ceasefire and put in place a mechanism for monitoring compliance with the ceasefire provisions:

Page 4-5, ARTICLE I, THE CEASE-FIRE

1. The Parties agree to a ceasefire among all their forces in the DRC.
2. The cease-fire shall mean:
 - a. the cessation of hostilities between all the belligerent forces in the DRC, as provided for in this Cease-fire Agreement (hereinafter referred to as “the Agreement”);
 - b. the effective cessation of hostilities, military movements and reinforcements, as well as hostile actions, including hostile propaganda;
 - c. a cessation of hostilities within 24 hours of the signing of the Cease-fire Agreement;
3. The ceasefire shall entail the cessation of:
 - a. all air, land, and sea attacks as well as all actions of sabotage;
 - b. attempts to occupy new ground positions and the movement of military forces and resources from one area to another, without prior agreement between the parties.
 - c. all acts of violence against the civilian population by respecting and protection human rights. The acts of violence include summary executions, torture, harassment, detention and execution of civilians based on their ethnic origin; propaganda, inciting ethnic and tribal hatred; arming civilians; recruitment and use of child soldiers; sexual violence; training and use of terrorists; massacres, downing of civilian aircraft; and bombing the civilian populations;
 - d. supplies of ammunition and weaponry and other war-related stores to the field;
 - e. any other action that may impede the normal evolution of the cease-fire process.

Page 5, ARTICLE III PRINCIPLES OF THE AGREEMENT

6. The cease-fire shall guarantee the free movement of persons and goods throughout the national territory of the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Page 12, Annex A, CHAPTER I, CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES

- 1.1 The Parties, shall announce a cessation of hostilities, to be effective 24 hours after the signing of the Cease-fire Agreement.
